Course Overview: Using programs such as Python, students will incorporate multiple computer languages for computation of design, while utilizing professional tools to foster creativity to explore the inner workings of the internet.

Goals and Objectives: Students will learn professional thinking practices to help solve problems and create apps and websites.

Objectives:

- Problems and create apps and websites.
- Professional thinking practices to help solve problems.
- Fostering creativity to explore the inner workings of the internet.